"August Flower"

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations

A worn-out with beneficial results, I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDERICK, Saugerties, New York.

W. B. Utsey, St. George's, S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.

The Life of a Wooden Leg.

Judge Bacon has had before him in the Bloomfield county court an action of an unusual character, the subject of dispute being an artificial leg. The case for the plaintiffs was that the defendant, Mr. Dearness, a railway clerk, was supplied by them with an artificial leg, the price of which was twenty-five pounds, one-half of which was paid when the limb was delivered. At the time the order was given the defendant was suffering a great deal in consequence of his having for a long time worn a boy's leg.

It was alleged that the leg was a bad fit, and for that reason he refused to pay for it. On cross-examination the plaintiffs denied having guaranteed that the leg would last for seven years. The ordinary life of a leg with ordinary wear and tear would be some years, but how many they could not say. Defendant, who appeared in court wearing the leg, which he offered through his counsel to remove for his honor's inspection, an offer which was not accepted, said the limb was of no use to him, as it hurt him very much, but he was obliged to continue wearing it because he had no other.

He was not a man who could afford a new leg every year, and he bought this offending limb on the representation that he would be able to wear it with comfort for seven years. Plaintiffs had altered it once or twice, but still it was very uncomfortable, and he now asked to be allowed to give the plaintiffs back their leg and to have his thirteen pounds returned. His honor thought the leg was a good fit and gave judgment for the plaintiffs for the amount claimed, with costs. —Pull Mall Gazette.

About Sunstroke.

Among probable causes of sunstroke are the presence of stagnant atmosphere, excess in diet, as tending to retard tissue changes, pulmonary oppression by clothing with consequent malnutrition, great physical exhaustion with cardiac fatigue and the consumption, even in moderate amount, of alcoholic liquors during hot weather. The habitual wearing of somewhat loose porous clothing, by encouraging perspiration and assisting the removal of its products, will also contribute materially toward the reduction of the general temperature.

It is needful to keep in view the extreme sensitiveness of the cerebro spinal nerve centers, especially those of the medulla. The means by which protection can best be accomplished call for a brief notice. Among these may be mentioned the adoption of the familiar white veil behind and over the head, the interposition of a wet white linen cloth between head and hat and the effectual ventilation of the latter. —London Lancet.

A Deer in a City's Streets.

On a recent afternoon a large deer entered the city and made its way through Main street. Men tried to capture it, but without success. Finally it was headed off in front of the postoffice. The animal paused a moment and then jumped over the railing of the bridge into Kenduskeag river. The deer swam gracefully up stream, with several parties in boats and canoes in hot pursuit. They came up with the animal in a short time and one party captured it. It was thought at first that it had escaped from some deer park, but it was found to be a wild animal, and had been seen on the outskirts of the city earlier in the day. —Bangor Cor. Boston Herald.

The Profits of Bric-a-Brac.

The grand total realized for the nine days' sale of the Cavendish-Bentinch collection of art furniture was £89,540 10s. The high prices of this sale were extraordinary. The prime cost has been exceeded by nearly cent per cent, and in many instances even larger profits have been obtained. Generally speaking the prices realized show a return of 5 per cent. compound interest on the original outlay. —London Times.

Barred Out a Balloon Wedding.

The committee of arrangements of the New England fair met at Secretary Chamberlain's office and decided not to have a marriage ceremony in the balloon, as was suggested, as to their minds it would be too sensational. It was decided, however, to give the patrons of the fair all the ballooning they crave, and there will be ascensions with parachute leaps three days of the fair. —Worcester (Mass.) Spy.

An Instantaneous Map of the Sky.

The latest thing in instantaneous photography is the suggestion of a European academy of science that an international conference be held to make arrangements for the elaboration of a photographic map of the heavens, to be simultaneously executed at ten or twelve observatories, widely scattered over the face of the globe. —St. Louis Republic.

DEMANDING FREE COINAGE.

The Standard Dollar argues that this country cannot confine itself to the single or gold standard. It is too large to be gauged by the demands of England or Germany, whose populations are at a standstill or nearly so. With a population of 65,000,000, which is being increased 2,500,000 annually, we must have more money than can be supplied in gold. Next to gold, silver is the most precious metal. It has always been used as money the world over. England and Germany are de-coining the world regarding silver. They are coining it constantly for their own use. England makes enormous profits on the silver bullion it buys of American miners at a dollar or less an ounce, and coins into rupees for India at $1 35 per ounce. Says the Silver Dollar:

"This country must have an increase in its circulating medium to keep up with the increase in population. With at least 30,000,000 more inhabitants in fifteen years, to keep up the same amount per capita as we have now, $23, we must multiply 30,000,000 by twenty-three, giving us the enormous sum of $690,000,000. Can we increase our gold that much in the next fifteen years. Our mines are producing about $35,000,000 a year, and half of it is absorbed in the arts. Dentists, jewelers, gilders, etc., use up an immense amount of gold yearly. The amount of gold left is too small for this 'billion-dollar country.' We need the silver certificate, with the silver dollar to back it, which costs the Government nothing, in fact, there is a large profit in coining it. Let the free coining of silver commence; it cannot drive gold out of the country as it has a commodity value and act like a magnet. 'The more silver, as well as copper, iron, cotton, wheat and tobacco a country produces the richer it becomes, and eventually it will draw the gold of the world (if we want it) to our feet.'

AGAINST McKINLEY.

Colorado Republicans are much stronger silver men than many of their political brethren in Nevada. They want McKinley defeated because he is a gold bug, and they are not afraid to say so. A Denver paper says on this subject:

"There is no doubt now as to where McKinley stands on the silver question. He is both a bold and frank man, and in his speech at Niles, in opening the Ohio campaign, he took square grounds against free and unlimited coining. Thus the issue is fairly made, and there should not be a Republican in Colorado, who, if a true friend to the white metal, should not use his utmost endeavors for the defeat of this avowed gold bug candidate."

That has the right ring. It shows that in Colorado free coinage is placed above party success. How different in boss-governed Nevada. Here there is not a Republican paper that has sufficient independence or manliness to say a word against the anti-silver platform and candidate of the Ohio Republicans, though each and all of them pretend to favor free coinage. The true friends of silver, the miners, merchants and farmers of the State, whose business would be greatly benefitted by the full remonetization of silver, ought to see this and to emphasize their position on the free coinage question make the bosses and other organs understand that they will not support for office in Nevada men who ally themselves with a party, whether it be Republican or Democratic, whose platforms and candidates in the East are unequivocally opposed to free coinage.

Hon. Lorenzo Sawyer, Judge of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, comprising the Districts of Northern and Southern California, Nevada and Oregon, died in San Francisco Monday night. His death leaves two vacancies in the Circuit Court of the Ninth District, and as a District Judge will have to be appointed to succeed the late Ogden Hoffman, Nevada ought reasonably to expect a citizen of the State to be honored with one of the appointments. The President, however, gives Nevada no federal position outside the State.

Laborers imported by Pennsylvania manufacturers have brought a new kind of disease into the country which is said to be a cross between the seven years' itch and leprosy. At Norristown the disease is spreading and causing considerable alarm among the inhabitants. Major McKinley, it seems, was too intent on protecting the monopolists of Pennsylvania to put a clause in his tariff bill to protect workmen from diseased laborers imported by those monopolists.

The Elko Free Press says: "The San Francisco Wave intimates that Francis Newlands will be in the Senatorial fight next year against Stewart." If Mr. Newlands intends to enter the Senatorial fight in this State he must have changed his mind since last June, as he then wrote Mr. Fulton to announce him in the Gazette as a candidate for Representative in Congress.

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

An Open Letter to Cleveland.

Special to the Journal.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., September 8.—The Husbandman to-day contains an open letter from Lieutenant Governor Jones to ex-President Cleveland saying in part: It is understood you are a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1892. This renders it not only proper, but incumbent upon you to take all honorable means to protect your interests and prevent your friends from complicating you in alliances which must result in your injury. Your friends are taking active interest in our State campaign and freely using your name in their support of Mr. Flower. Your strength as a Presidential candidate lies in your popularity with the masses, wage earners, toilers and producers. They are a large majority of the people of this country, and these are not in sympathy with the class of people whom Flower represents. The movement along the line is manifesting itself in Alliances, leagues, various combinations and organizations, as well as the free expression of the people in daily talk is a protest against the aggressive power of wealth, now accomplishing its purpose by its free use in debauching the political morals of the people.

Convicts Indulge in Prize Fighting. Special to the Journal.

BORER CITY, September 8.—The report of a bloody fight to a finish at the State penitentiary came to light in this city to-day. The extraordinary event occurred five weeks ago last Sunday. Boxing has been permitted by the warden for months and culminated in a finish fight between convicts McCreary and Danlap, in which the latter was whipped.

The preliminaries were arranged by Warden Mack and his guards. The prisoners were allowed to bet money and articles which they manufactured, on the result, and on the day of the fight were present en masse. Guard Alex Roberts, son of Prison Commissioner Roberts, was bottle-holder for one of the combatants. All the officials of the prison were present. The fight was a particularly savage one, Convict Danlap being pounded until covered with blood and almost unable to stand when his second (a guard) threw up the sponge.

News of the affair has caused a sensation and there is a clamor for an investigation.

Eight Persons Poisoned. Special to the Journal.

KANSAS CITY, September 8.—A special to the Times from Belleville, Kansas, says nine people of this place are at the point of death as a result of having partaken of poison in food. George Gregg returned from Iowa last Saturday, where he had gone to bring home his wife and children, who have been visiting there. A young lady relative accompanied Mrs. Gregg. Sunday Mrs. Johnson, a neighbor, called on the way home from church, and accepted an invitation to dinner. Eight persons sat down to the table, and soon after dinner they all became violently ill, exhibiting all symptoms of poisoning. Shortly afterward the servant, who had in the meantime eaten dinner, became ill, showing the same symptoms. Since then all grow steadily worse, and the recovery of none of the victims is expected. What the nature of the poison was and how administered is unknown.

The wife of Dalton arrived from Sacramento earlier in the afternoon and accompanied her husband as far as the jail. Deafness Can't Be Cured. Special to the Journal.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FAUST.

What is Said of the Play.

Next Tuesday, September 15th, Faust will be presented to Reno theatre-goers at McKissick's Opera House. The Boston Transcript says: "Bayle Bernard's version of Goethe's 'Faust,' which Lewis Morrison has brought to the Boston Theatre for a stay of two weeks, makes the fifth arrangement, purely dramatic, in English from that great drama which has been seen in Boston within the last thirty years. Our play-goers, therefore, know their 'Faust' pretty well. Bernard's play, however, comes the nearest of all, and in fact comes very near to Goethe's drama, that is to those portions of the first part which have been taken. It follows, in order and arrangement of scenes, very closely the book which was furnished to Gounod, with the catastrophe of that adaptation—Faust's descent to hell. But it is throughout a much stronger and more nervous text than in the opera or any other familiar stage version of the story. Mr. Morrison plays the part of 'Mephisto' with evident appreciation of its grimly humorous side. His enunciation is so distinct, and his elocution is so masterly that the audience lost not a word. The various throngs of students, soldiers, imps and witches are managed with great skill.

"As a scenic production the effort is interesting and has its moments of great artistic success. The scenery that has been brought to use in the piece is well designed and executed, and the costumes are equally good. Considerable ingenuity is shown in the management of the various illuminating agencies—gas, lime and electricity. For music there are some neatly written movements, with liberal quotations from Gounod's opera.

"This presentation of 'Faust,' which will be continued here through this week and next, has so much literary merit that it deserves the careful attention of all students of the drama."

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can SCROFULA Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula, a sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Nauright, N. J. N. B. Mr. Allen will drive these cattle to St. Clair, Churchill county, to be fed for the Spring market. He will feed at least three hundred head at his ranch during the coming Winter.

EX-PRESIDENT BALMAEDA.

The Defeated Ruler of Chili Who is a Fugitive.

Jose Manuel Balmaceda was born in 1840. He is an educated man of resolute will, a fluent speaker and an experienced politician. After serving as Deputy in five Legislatures he became Minister of the Interior in 1882. He was one of the founders of the Reform Club in 1868, and in 1874 was an advocate of the separation of Church and State, and as Prime Minister, in 1884, he introduced civil marriage and other liberal laws. He was inaugurated President September 18, 1886, for a term which expires September 18, 1891. In the beginning of President Balma-ceda's administration, he fulfilled, in a measure, the liberal tenets of his early career. The public revenues were increased and the cause of popular education advanced. But soon his policy changed, and he showed a disposition to go to unexampled lengths in centralizing the power of the Government, controlling legislation and in manipulating the entire electoral system so as to dictate and control the Presidential succession. The active opposition of the whole reform party of Chili was aroused, and the result was civil war, which has been carried on with varying success of both parties, until the final defeat of Balmaceda's army by Col. Canto and the surrender of Santiago, the Capital of Chili, to the Congressional party.

COL. CANTO.

The Leader of the Victorious Congressional Army in Chili.

Col. Canto is 40 years old. He commanded a battalion in the war with Peru and greatly distinguished himself. To his military tact, bravery and ability as a leader in that war he owed his promotion to the rank of Colonel. He is one of the most able officers of the army. He is short of stature and of swarthy complexion. When trouble was brewing between Balmaceda and his Congress, Col. Canto proposed a toast to the Constitution and the three powers it established—the legislative, the executive and the judicial. Balmaceda ordered his arrest and Canto suffered several months' imprisonment and was finally sent to the north of Chili in exile. When the revolution broke out Canto escaped and immediately joined the Congressional party and was put at the head of the fast-forming army. The wisdom of the choice had been apparent. He felt that he was leading one of the most righteous revolutions that ever took place in South America. He fought as he felt. He will now undoubtedly be promoted to the full rank of General. While he will not be the highest in rank, there being several veteran Generals still alive, he will be the idol of the country.

The Tribune says Governor Colcord made the following appointments yesterday: Hon. F. G. Newlands and Hon. Wm. M. Stewart as Representatives to the Salt Lake Irrigation Convention; Alfred Mackey as Commissioner of Deeds, to reside in New York City; George O. Bryson, Jr., Director of the Ormsby Agricultural Association, succeeding C. N. Noteware, resigned.
